Graham Russell)

You're in-between aa page of life you never dreamed

The answer won't come from that magazine

this time it's real and you're not sure just what to feel

Who can I trust to say

Should I give love now should I take love now

CHORUS

I'm taking the chance

And giving myself to you

If something's not right then tell me I'm wrong

I just want it all to carry on

Sometimes the fear of losing you has been so near

I needed to make this choice on my own

To let love in when I'm so scared when things begin

Don't run away I feel close to you now

You know I need you now

CHORUS

I'm taking the chance

And giving myself to you

If something's not right then tell me I'm wrong

I just want it all to carry on

I'm taking the chance

I can't let this feeling leave

I don't want those nights of waiting so long

I'm taking the chance before it's gone

Taking the chance

Taking the chance

Taking the chance

Taking the chance

On you
