When the time is right

I will come back for you

To hold you through the night

Just like I always do

Oh, Jane, take me to your room again

Why can't we learn how to love and let go

One more time

Oh, Jane, hold me in your arms again

Don't you feel the heat of the night deep inside, oh,
Jane

When the time is right

And you reach out for me

I'll run back to your side

Just where I used to be, oh, Jane

You can take the pain away

Say we'll be together once more

Please open the door, oh, Jane

Oh, Jane, hold me in your arms again

Will we ever learn how to love

Learn how to love and let go

Oh, Jane, hold me in your arms again

We'll we ever learn how to love

Learn how to love and let go

When the time is right

I will come back for you

With arms to hold you tight

Just like I always do

Oh, Jane, take me to your room again

Because I believe the heat of the night is still burning bright, deep

inside

Oh, Jane, hold me in your arms again

Tell me if you want me to go

I'll leave you alone, oh, Jane

Oh, Jane, take me to your room again

Can't you feel the heat of the night is still burning bright, deep inside

Oh, Jane, take me to your room again

Why can't we learn how to love

Learn how to love and let go
