If the is crazy It's good to be insane
Living in a memory of a cold New Orleans Rain
Didn't think I'd find her there, a thousand miles away
Didn't think it could be so strong, and never go away

But since I boarded the plane
In that pouring rain
With a place inside me begging me to stay
Since I flew away
Never lost this pain
Cause I left my heart in a cold New Orleans rain

Can some one save me, one lost heart of gold
I can't stop remembering, all the passion we let go We dreamed that love could find a way, in the cold and pouring rain
With one last moment safe and warm, we kissed the tears to hide the pain

Than I boarded the plane, In that pouring rain
With a place inside me begging me to stay
Since I flew away, never lost this pain
Cause I left my heart In a cold New Orleans rain

I always thought New Orleans, jazz bands, warmth, and sun
I never thought I'd be so lonely for someone
The warmth I left behind is lost inside her arms...
