Don't believe my heart can stand another you
I need someone who'll be gentle kind and true
So go your way I've had enough
The game you play is just too rough
I don't believe my heart can stand another you

Of all the people in the world
To be standing at the door
Tellin' me she left me and you know the one I left before
I sat down and thought it over
And I've come to this conclusion
Don't believe my heart can stand another you

Don't believe my heart can stand another you
I need someone who'll be gentle kind and true
Go your way I've had enough
The game you play is just too rough
I don't believe my heart can stand another you

I've tried every way I knew
To get you out of ?.....?
I've been as far down as my knees
But so far it has been no help and with you already here
I must say its complicated
Don't believe my heart can stand another you

Don't believe my heart can stand another you
Oh I need someone who'll be gentle kind and true
So go your way I've had enough
The game you play is just too rough
I don't believe my heart can stand another you

Don't believe my heart can stand another you
I need someone who'll be gentle kind and true
So go your way I've had enough
The game you play is too damn rough
I don't believe my heart can stand another you
I don't believe my heart can stand another you
