"Love Is Like A Butterfly"

Love is like a warm and tender rain
Splashin' on the roof
Beatin' on the window pain

She was like a soft and gentle breeze
Seemin' so sincere
Pretty as you please

Though the time we spent together was so small
I keep wondering if I'll pull through it all
But the way you held me close and call my name
The pain I'm feelin' now
Tells me love is not a game

Everytime I looked into her eyes
I couldn't really see
What was on her mind
'Cause she'd been through this many times before
I never realised I must have been a bore

Now I believe in love to be
Just simple truth and harmony
Happiness both day and night
No one wrong or right

But the way you held me close and call my now
And the pain I'm feelin' now
Tells me love is not a game
