Get up!

So lets take a look at ourselves and see what we have been through.

I've never cared about this or anything that I've said to you.

This burning love inside is burning full with hate.
All that I see in us is nothing.

I see this now, there's nothing left to say.
I've waited so long for all that remains.
I see you again, I see inside you.
We fight this till the end, until the end.

So lets take a look at ourselves and see what we have
been through.
I've never cared about this or anything.
This burning love inside is burning full with hate.
All that I see in us is nothing.

I see this now, there's nothing left to say.
I've waited so long for all that remains.
I see you again, I see inside you.
We fight this till the end, until the end.

These burning times have ignited the flame in me to fight.

I see this now, there's nothing left to say.
I've waited so long for all that remains.
I see you again, I see inside you.
We fight this till the end, until the end.
