"chorus:

You won't be half a man if you cry

So cry

But you don't cry

You don't cry

You hear my knocking at your door

Why don't you open it?

Don't be a fool

I know that you're feelin' blue

I guess you've never felt before

You're starin' at your white, white wall

And nothing's like it was last night

I guess you've never felt before

You're starin' at your white, white wall

And nothing's like it was last night

You won't be ... won't be half a man

...mmmhh...

Feelin' blue ... feelin' blue

Chorus

Preserve the pearl and you'll fall deep down

If you cannot swim you have to drown

In the world a sea, a sea so blue

So take my hand and free yourself

Just let go there's nothing else

You need as much as trusting arms boy

Chorus

You don't cry, you don't cry, you don't cry

Don't cry

Cry
