I tell of a girl
That I think you know
She lives right next to your house

I see you walking here
I hear you talking loud
The whole street watches now

But I don't see yourself
Cause there's somebody else
That's why I tell you
Turn to the mirror

Refrain:
See her
She's a lady
No princess without jewels
There's no matter for maybe
Oh I care for other rules
See her
She's a lady
No princess without jewels
There's no matter for maybe
Oh I care for other rules

When she's at home alone
Or when she's on her own
Compares herself to girls
In her favourite magazines
And she would do everything
Just to look like them

She hates and hurts her body
Fights and fools her mind
If she looked like a princess
Would she have found what she wanted to find
And what about her problems
Would they all go away

Refrain (2x)

Just see her there
See that she's a lady
There's no need to ask
There's no matter for maybe
A princess without jewels...
a princess without jewels...
