I lay here on the floor
We speak but you're not listening
You feel I've missed the point
But it's just you I'm missing here

Not just another song
Words that I'm regretting
Five weeks that you've been gone
It's me that you're forgetting here

I can waste my time if you're not giving an answer
But you're still waiting here

Find out just what went wrong
Play it through my mind, repeating
Can't ? just one last song
Sing it out till your heart starts beating

I can waste my time if you're not giving an answer
But you're still waiting here
God, it started to get cold
But I can't see your eyes
And I'll run away for awhile
But I swear I'm feeling fine
You've got to love more than just one
To ? this time
So if you're lucky and out for more
Well the field is open wide
You've got to love more than just one
But I'll still try
Yeah, I'll still try

Here

I can waste my time if you're not giving an answer
But you're still waiting here
