Visit "Safe Here" on MotoLyrics.com

I hear them calling
But they can't reach me here
I'm in my shrine
In the forest I've known for long

Why would anyone ask me to leave
Oh can't they see
That I have reached my home, my peace,
It is caressing me

So I will do my best
To explore all mystery
Of this world of beauty
Until I reach you pretty

There is so much
I haven't done before but as I see
I have found the source of all
Divine vitality
What happened to my senses
They have become so clear
Like I could see Creation
In the light of an eye

Why would anyone ask me to leave
Oh can't they see
That I have reached my home, my peace,
It is caressing me

And I will follow my heart on this journey
Wherever it may lead me
I believe you will be there at the place we're meant to meet
