Could it be you?

I've been searching so hard to find

Tell me, How could I have been so blind?

You were here all the time

Could it be you?

You never looked as good to me as you look tonight

Oh yeah

It's like I've seen you for the first time through a lovers eyes.

Oh Could it be

That I never knew its always been you that I've been looking for

You were always right here by my side

Oh yeah

Could it be you?

I've been searching so hard to find

Tell me, How could I have been so blind?

You were here all the time

Oh Yeah

Could it be you?

The one I always have dreams about

The one I just can't live without

Is it so tell me now

Could it be you

Can you imagine what it's like to always live without love

I need to have you in my life

I think I know that now

My open heart

Make you a part

A part of this lovin I've been keepin

And I might just give it all to you

Oh ho

Could it be you?

I've been searching so hard to find

Tell me, How could I have been so blind?

You were here all the time

Could it be you?

The one I always heave dreams about

The one I just can't live without

Is it so tell me now

Every girl I meet

Though they might be sweet

They can't compare to you

So I search no more what I'm looking for

I know I found in you

Could it be you?

I've been searching so hard to find

Tell me how could I have been so blind

You were here all the time

Could it be you?

The one I always have dreamed about
