So many times

I thought I held it in my hands

But just like grains of sand

Love slipped through my fingers

So many nights

I asked the Lord above

Please make me lucky enough

To find a love that lingers

Something keeps telling me

You could be my answer prayer

You must be heaven sent

I swear

(Chorus)

Cause something happens when you look at me

I forget to speak

Something happens when you kiss my mouth

My knees get so weak

Could it be true this is what God has meant for me

Cause baby I can't believe something like you

Could happen to me

Girl in your eyes

I feel your fire burn (feel your fire)

All your secrets I will learn

Even if it takes forever

With you by my side

I can do anything (can't do anything)

I don't care what tomorrow brings

As long as we're together

My heart is telling me

That you could be my meant to be

I know it more each time

We touch

(Chorus)

Something magical (something magical)

Something spiritual (something spiritual)

Something stronger than the two of us alone (yea)

Something physical

Something undeniable

Nothing like anything (nothing like anything)

That I've ever known

(Chorus)

{fades out
