maybe i was walking alone maybe there was nobody else but i felt followed and not on my own so i was moving faster again feeling like an expendable role in some old movie about to be taken out but i found my courage on the wet grass and we came home put bottles in between our cheeks I cant see you but i cant see much and the lights retreated back inside their bulbs i felt like you until i felt you move to the other room workin had me tied in a knot and i was on the corner again feeling anxious waiting around then jesus came again in my dream told me i was fakin my life like some old movie and i was expendable and my friend i ran until i felt him
