"Someone Else"

loosen your bones take off your coat and lets talk tell me how you're doin alone i did not mind the hole in the ground until now

you tried to fill that hole with boys and booze you tried to take him home but that won't do open up your mind

it can not be someone else
not in a thousand years you should have known that no one else can no one else will do i've been alone baby runnin the map like a cold now it's old you couldn't have known honey i didn't so it took bites from my mind

my head was beaten like a warn out drum a picture of torment, i had come undone you opened up my eyes
