What's the use in making plans
If You're just gonna change them
What's the use in taking a stand
If it's not the right one
I'm not sure of where I'm headed
And I've got the wrong directions
And when the crossing sign says walk
You know that I run

I can't do this on my own
But I won't let You help me
I'm stuck, stopped in the road
Not going back, not going home
And while I'm waiting here
Maybe I'll find the map
That brings me back
Won't You bring me back to where You are

I'm pretty sure I've missed the mark, but I'm shooting at the wrong target
I'm making faces at the dark
And I got myself scared
I keep getting screwed up answers
But what's my equation
And if I run into Your arms
Will You keep me there

I can't do this on my own
But I won't let You help me
I'm stuck, stopped in the road
Not going back, not going home
And while I'm waiting here
Maybe I'll find the map
That brings back
Won't You bring me back to where You--

My mind is playings games and
This is a masquerade and
Sometime something's gotta break, and so I
I'll let You take my hand and
Maybe I'll understand

What it is You want me to be

But even if I don't know
And when I won't go
I thank You Lord that
You still love me

I can't do this on my own
Lord won't You please help me
I'm stuck stopped in the road
Not going back, not going home
And while I'm waiting here
Maybe I'll find the map
That brings me back
Lord please bring me back to where You are

Lord where You are
