(music: arcwelder lyrics: s.macdonald)

Try to do a favor it catches up later when I don't give a mile

Write a little note murder's all you wrote why don't you put me on trial

Ok I know that i am wrong

Really like to walk the talk that I talk but you make it so hard

Didn't want to hurt you selfish not a virtue I played the wrong card

Ok i know that I am wrong

[chorus]

But it's not my fault

If your treasured island

Won't open up

To be filled with your love

Guess that I will punt after your little stunt drove me away

Odds are getting thin I lose and you win that's what you want me to say

Ok I know that I am wrong

Rather be a help not your little whelp not a curse but a friend

End of my rope I can only hope things work out in the end

Ok I know that I am wrong

[chorus]
