Alone, a misplaced thought I swore
For nothing, nothing evermore
The more I looked, the less I found I saw
My darkness, my darkness has no door

To take, strength from one so weak
A great length, to take for one so meek
To find, you don't always need to seek
The things you lose, the things you need to keep

Because, you're gonna die alone
DogFace
You know, you're gonna die alone
The end, I'd never guessed this way
Dreams, shatter every day
Forget my face, and please forget my name
For one man, his war will end today

Because, you're gonna die alone
DogFace
I know, you're gonna die alone
