My feet just won't stop leaving the ground
My hands can't help but making a sound
My voice screams loud, let them hear us now
Let them hear us now, let them hear us now

I'm singing, singing out to you
With all my heart and I'm going Going after you with all I've got
I'm standing in a broken world
Living for your cross
So stir it up in me, stir it up in me

My feet just won't stop leaving the ground
My hands can't help but making a sound
My voice screams loud, let them hear us now
Let them here us now, can you hear us now

(Rap)
God is the king, understand that.
Every day I praise Him, He deserves that.
He can take away your pain, give you joy when you meet Him til you'll never wanna go back.
He's only everything you wish to be and glorify and that is why we need to go and tell the world about Him.
Go and spread the gospel of the living God and save you from destruction, I don't really wanna be another Sodom and Gomorrah, I need Jesus in my life.
He's the reason why I write.
For His name I'm shining bright - Like a Lite-Brite
So I give up all of me to be his chosen Everything He used to hold me back is dead and frozen
Feet keep jumping off the ground feels broken
Yup, He's my God in the world that He has spoken

I know your love has set me free
So take control and let me be
One of your chosen, one of your chosen
