Paint it now, paint it inside out
On a telephone wire
Lay it out for me alphabetically
'Cause I haven't got the time
To go sifting through
All that we've been through
And to put it all in line
But I'm here with you and I'm trying
To recalibrate my mind

Blame it on my eye, on my eye [x2]

Tell me how I can turn this around
'Cause I'm looking for a change
Give me just a clue, just a glimpse into
What it is you'd like to say
Of this labyrinth I've been crawling through
For what seems like such an age
But I'm here with you and I'm trying
To negotiate the way

Blame it on my eye, on my eye [x4]
