"Halfway Blind"

Lay me down neither lost nor found
I resign to be halfway blind
Let me find when you deem it right
I will climb to the highest height

I will go to find you there
If in the middle of the night
I will travel distances
Until that everything is right

If it be when it comes to me
I was wrong when I could not see
If in time that my eye survives
Let me see where I was so blind

I will go to find you there
If in the middle of the night
I will travel distances
Until that everything is right

Until that everything is right

I will go to find you there
If in the middle of the night
I will travel distances
Until that everything is right
