Don't you worry you're still loved
In this world gone mad
You know it's you we're thinking of
Don't you worry girl
That's true

Flowed like water though my hands
With a touch like warm summer sand
Silk in seven different ways
Hides with the night
Can't face the day

You touch and go
You just jumped off of the ride
You touch and go
And I can't face the day 'cause you're miles away

Airwave surfing through broken hearts
I can't watch this
I've missed the start
Entertainment or distraction?
Am I the one or just a fraction?

You touch and go
You just jumped off of the ride
You touch and go
And I can't face the day 'cause you're miles away

If hope is real
Let it show its face
Take me out of here to a better place

You touch and go
You just jumped off of the ride
You touch and go
And I can't face the day 'cause you're miles away

And you're still hanging on
