

Woven Hand

"Story And Pictures"

Visit "Story And Pictures" on MotoLyrics.com

Shook out my salvation in all four corners of my room
Lowly is the dust, trustworthy the broom

White lady, growlin' on a chain
Peacock caw the sound of my lover's name
The tone was pure and played on gut
From your birdhouse aflame

Your fire burns for me, red as grace
The blush came easily to your face
Your fire burns for me, red as grace
And she says that none would have her

As a boy I too drew near to the love of dust
Tough skin, blue light cowboy, idle hands they rust

Your fire burns for me, red as grace
The blush came easily to your face
Your fire burns for me, red as grace
And she says that none would have her

Let us allow the character to build
Wise as serpents and harmless as doves
Let's allow the emptiness to fill
Rich in mercy and brotherly love

Your fire burns for me, red as grace
The blush came easily to your face
Your fire burns for me, red as grace
And she says that none would have her

Visit Woven Hand page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.