Music is what you make of it
Life is short it's over to quick
You don't really know a thing
Listen and think before you rush in
That man is not the same as you
But what he sees can be just as true
What makes you think you know it all
You don't know anything that's for sure

What makes you think that you're not blind?
Do you think that I can't change your mind?
Life's not as simple as you want it to be
And sooner or later this you will see

Appearances are only that
What you see is not what you get
Take the time to find out the truth
Judge not or you'll be judged yourself
No-one wears their heart on their sleeve
Only in time will it be seen
You think your eyes give you site
But what they show you is never right

What makes you think that you're not blind?
Do you think that I can't change your mind?
Life's not as simple as you want it to be
And sooner or later this you will see

Music is what you make of it
Life is short it's over to quick
You don't really know a thing
Listen and think before you rush in
That man is not the same as you
But what he sees can be just as true
What makes you think you know it all
You don't know anything that's for sure

What makes you think that you're not blind?
Do you think that I can't change your mind?
Life's not as simple as you want it to be
And sooner or later this you will see

And sooner or later this you will see [x3]
