

Rusty Bryant

"Everything Comes With A Price"

Visit "Everything Comes With A Price" on MotoLyrics.com

And it takes a dive to the riverbed
And the darkness comes you lose your head
When it all collides it tears a hole inside
And the road is long to the end of time
It's a wave you ride or at least you try
When all you've got is time you just let it ride

And everything comes with a price
But how much can you sacrifice
You feel when you win you still lose
And no one else is in your shoes

And the drive is long to god knows where
You've lost your mind but now you just don't care
The numbers on the signs are everywhere

And everything comes with a price
But how much can you sacrifice
You feel when you win you still lose
And no one else is in your shoes

It's a bold idea to watch the angels sing
You sit back and laugh to hide the state you're in
Can you win?

And everything comes with a price
But how much can you sacrifice
You feel when you win you still lose
And no one else is in your shoes

Visit Rusty Bryant page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.