When you saw her face,
You thought that nothing could go wrong.
An' then you saw her smile:
You used to be so very strong.
But even X-ray eyes,
Could not realise,
That everybody loves an' everybody falls,
An' everybody, everybody feels this way.

'Cause even Superman has Kryptonite,
An' though he tries with all his might.
'Cause even Superman falls to his knees,
Beggin' please, please, please, please.
Beggin' please, please, please, please.

Now Lois Lane feels safe,
Because he's flyin' up above.
But would he save the world? (Would he save the world?)
An' never hold his one true love.
An' then she had a dream,
An' woke up with a scream.
He's sayin': "Everybody hurts an' everybody falls,
"An' everybody, everybody feels this way."

'Cause even Superman has Kryptonite,
An' though he tries with all his might.
'Cause even Superman falls to his knees,
Beggin' please, please, please, please.
Beggin' please, please, please, please.

Instrumental break.

When Lex Luthor saw,
That this weakenss made him strong.
The diabolic plan, (The diabolic plan.)
Was in effect before too long.
'Cause even giants fall,
An' every dog eventually has it's day,
And Achilles has a heel,
An' even bones of steel can break,

And even Superman, even Superman,
Even Superman, even Superman, yeah.

'Cause even Superman has Kryptonite,
An' though he tries with all his might.
Even Superman falls to his knees,
Beggin' please, please, please, please.

'Cause even Superman has, couldn't deny it,
An' though he tries with all his might.
Even Superman falls to his knees,
Beggin' please, please, please, please.

'Cause even Superman,
Even Superman falls to his knees,
Beggin' please, please, please, please.
Beggin' please, please, please, please.
'Cause even Superman.
