Ryan

More often than not, I find a reason to believe
Why I shouldn't stay here, why I should leave
Seems I fall back, too many times to count
Thought we'd last longer, thought we'd work it out
And now we're falling back, I got nothing anymore
I see you walk away, I see you close the door

And I can't believe, believe what we've found
A world on it's knees, begging out loud and
Its crying to everyone it sees
Come help me out, please

Meredith

And now we fall back, into the air
Seems like you wanted it more than I ever cared
Give me hope, Find me life
Maybe I'll hold on, give it a second try

I can't believe, believe what we've found
A world on it's knees, begging out loud and
Crying to everyone it sees
Come help me out, please

Ryan / Meredith

Before I fall in, maybe I'll come back again
But I hope you can understand

I can't believe, believe what we've found
A world on it's knees, begging out loud and
Crying to everyone it sees
Come help me out, please

Before I fall in

I can't believe, believe what we've found
A world on it's knees, begging out loud and
Crying to everyone it sees

Come help me out, please

Before I fall in
