VERSE 1

All my life I've had this frown
Found a way to change it around
People, they say loss
Is the only thing we fake
When we're over the top
As it steers the pain

CHORUS

So break my fall
You're just like the aftermath of a god
Who tells the truth behind these eyes

VERSE 2

Save your hate
For when it's erased
So we can build and replace
All these souls that
Are six feet deep from bombs
That blew them away
From further fixing this place

CHORUS

So break my fall
You're just like the aftermath of a god
Who tells the truth behind these eyes

BRIDGE

See a line
Coming across the sky
An open mind
Piece it together
The lights
They flicker, they flicker
