If home is really where the heart is
And home must be a place we all can share
For even with our differences, our hearts are much the same
For where love is we come together there

Wherever there is laughter ringing
Someone smiling, someone dreaming
We can live together there
Love will be our home

Wherever there are children singing
Where a tender heart is beating
We can live together there
Cause love will be our home

With love our hearts can be a family
And hope can bring this family face to face
And though we may be far apart
Our hearts can be as one
When love brings us together in one place

Wherever there is laughter ringing
Someone smiling, someone dreaming
We can live together there
Love will be our home

Where there are words of kindness spoken
Where a vow is never broken
We can live together there
Cause love will be our home

Love will, love will be our home
Love will, love will be our home
Love will, love will be our home

Wherever there is laughter ringing
Someone smiling, someone dreaming
We can live together there
Love will be our home

Wherever there are children singing
Where a tender heart is beating
We can live together there
Cause love will be our home

Love will, love will be our home
Love will, love will be our home
Love will, love will be our home

Wherever there is laughter ringing
Someone smiling, someone dreaming
We can live together there
Cause love will be our home

Love will be our home.
