Tears are falling down,
they fall like rain
All this love has turned around
There's no more words to say, it's over now
And I'm walking away
I let you fly, but I can't let go

With every breath I take and every move I make
I still miss you every night and every day
Can use the memories without I'm incomplete
I still love you and it hurts so much to know

The way we say goodbye
The way we cry I should have known
This love will never lie.
I just don't know, will I have to move on
When it feels so wrong
I let you fly, but I can't let go

With every breath I take and every move I make
I still miss you every night and every day
Can use the memories without I'm incomplete
I still love you and it hurts so much to know

(piano solo)

With every breath I take and every move I make
I still miss you every night and every day
Can use the memories without I'm incomplete
I still love you and it hurts so much to know

Yeah yeah yeah, and so hurts so much to know
Yeah, I still miss you now
