The gossip has started like I knew it would
They saw us together they say you're no good
Just let them keep talking cause someday they'll find
That we love each other and you're no secret of mine

Before I would shame you I step aside
You know I couldn't do that even if I tried
So let's face them together and hold our heads up high
We love each other you're no secret of mine
[steel]
Before I would shame you I step aside...
Yes we love each other and you're no secret of mine
