It must have been something
Being born in a manger
With the sheep from the fields
And stars shining over your head
It must have been something
Seeing three wise men
On their knees before a newborn
With their eyes all aglow
And their hearts they know
It's the Messiah
He's come at last
It's the Messiah
He's come at last
It must have been something
Speaking the word of your Father
With the promise of life
And peace forever
It must have been something
Walking the streets of Jerusalem
With the sins of the world
On the innocence of a lamb

But soon everyone will know

It's the Messiah

He's come at last

It's the Messiah

He's come at last

It's the Messiah

He's come at last

It's the Messiah

He's with us at last

It must have been something
