you said that you were wrong i simply do not belong into your country songs of things down the ways i tried change my view still all i see is you through bright eyes turning blue in the dead of the day you just look away

i will tear myself in two hold my breath 'til i turn blue nothing ever happens when you're gone

i will stand out in the rain like a rusted railway train cause nothing ever happens when you're gone happens when you're gone away a cloud has been looking down and laughing like a clown so hard it cried out loud for hours today when it heard me say

cause nothing ever happens when you're gone away i want the summer to end and now that i feel fair i will wait another day for words you will never say you just walk away
