Lyrics & Music H.Pincus, H.Stride, B.Maltin

(A very rare piece of music that was never recorded as far as is known, and does not have a regular cover)

Verse 1

Go to sleep my baby

Close your pretty eyes

I will sing, my baby

Mother's lullaby

Chorus

Little Shirley Temple

Sweet as sugar pie

Roguish little dimple

Twinkle in her eye

With her childish laughter

Like an angel's smile

Sunshine that comes after

It has rained awhile

Put your rocking horse

And your dolls away

There's the chime

And it is time to go to bed

Sandman's on his way
Can't you hear him say
Pleasant dreams will keep
While you're asleep
You little sleepy head
Little Shirley Temple
Bright as stars that shine
That is why I love her
For she's just as sweet as mine

Verse 2

Now the sun is sinking
Shadows start to creep
Stars above are winking
Baby go to sleep
