Ask you a question,
Tell me no lies,
My friend you see, are your allibies,
Now you tell me,
Do you ever think of the life that you live,
When you live it do you really, give it all you can give.

I ask you this,
'Cuase the time is so near,
No Women no cry,
No Livin' in fear.
Lift up your head,
Now you must stand tall,
You won't be around to see Babylon fall.

All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
be,
NOW!?!
I can see that it's time,
In our lives to change things,
Never been so clear as it is today.

People now hear this,
You got to show love,
Stop all the voilence,
The push and the shove.
All we wanna see is peace in our day,
Freein' other people of their evil ways.

Don't wanna live a life of constant struggle,
People every day are in a state of trouble.
Let us enjoy the life that we have been given,
Avoid all the strife if we keep on livin'.

Chorus

All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
All we really wanna say the time for change has got to
be,
be,
NOW!?!
I can see that it's time,
In our lives to change things,
Never been so clear as it is today.
And if this time I am right,
Soon the world will be changing,
As one day nation will see a brighter day.

Buildings are burning,
And pages are turning,
Yet nobody really wants to deal with it.

The graveyards are fillin',
Because of the killin',
Yet nobody really wants to deal with it.

There's drugs in the cornfield,
And blood on the windshield,
Yet nobody really wants to deal with it.

We're losin' the best,
With one shot to the chest,
And nobody really wants to deal with it.

I can see that it's time,
In our lives to change things,
Never been so clear as it is today.
And if this time I am right,
Soon the world will be changing,
As one day nation will see a brighter day.
