As he's laying in bed all he can think about is her
& How the scent of her perfume,
Dances through his head
& He wishes she could be laying next to him.

He dreams of her soft hands at his side,
His love for her will never die,
He'll never let go,
He'll never say goodbye.

He's counting the seconds,
Till they are together.
He's falling for her, (He's falling for her,)
Faster then the stormiest weather.

So take my hand
& I'll hold you tight
& Our love will grow,
As we dance into the night.

Follow me
& I'll never leave your side.
We'll be lovers together,
As our two hearts collide into one.

He's not okay when she's not around,
How he longs to hear that certain sound,
Of her voice playing through his head.
He keeps tossing and turning alone in his bed.

How their love keeps growing faster then before,
How shes the one that he adores,
How their love will last till the end of time
& How i know she'll always be mine.

So take my hand
& I'll hold you tight
& Our love will grow,
As we dance into the night.

Follow me

& I'll never leave your side.
We'll be lovers together,
As our two hearts collide into one
