You said that I could trust in you
You said that it would be ok

I was madly in love with you believed in every word you said
I counted the days and nights
that you kept out of sight
I dont think you'll ever return

Well in that case...

You can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world before you came

You said that I could trust in you
You said that it would be ok

I was madly in love with you
believed in every word you said
I counted the days and nights
that you kept out of sight
I dont think you'll ever return

Burn motherfucker burn

You can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn
Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world
before you came

How could I be so blind?
I didnt see it coming believed in all your lies You treated me so kind like I was in heaven
But lately its been hell
I get up again
I know I will
I get up again

And now you can burn motherfucker burn
I push the brakes and make a U-turn
Im driving back in the fastlane, to my world
before you came
