There was never a chance to get away when was it only ever but perverse why could they take a stone and break your arms there could be nothing worse
except to live

Live, live little girl
sold in slavery
twenty-five men
have their way in you burned upon the breast
with a cigarette
nothing is worse than to be born and live

There was someone at home you cared about when was there anyone who cared for you why could they take a spoon and break your teeth

Live, live blighted girl
sold in slavery
burned upon the foot
nothing is worse than to be born again

Earth has lost and lost its youth tomorrow, tomorrow will be no happy days you will die and die and falkland road your ashes will reek of sweat
