"Whatever Season"

Visit "Whatever Season" on MotoLyrics.com

With the falling rain came the scent of our times
I whipped you off and felt so awkwardly alive
I pretend to think about my health and what's true
But the only one I ever think about is you

Whatever the season I'll be around your block
I want to know if you were faking
I cut all cords with a sigh and a smile
But when you step up I feel so nervous I could die

With the sound of laughter came a sense of doubt
But I won't believe that you were faking
Whatever the season I'll be around your block
I want to know if you were faking

With the sound of laughter came a sense of doubt
But I won't believe that you were faking
Whatever the season I'll be around your block
I want to know if you were faking
