She woke from a dream and started to cry
She turned to the window and watched the cars passing by
A chill ran through her veins she remembered he's not here
She buried her head in his pillow to fight off her tears

Indiana Rain coming down in the middle of the night
Put an end to this misery that's burning deep inside Trapped in their empty home it's been driving her
insane
Indiana Rain won't you wash away her pain

It was a cold and icy day when he said good-bye
In her mind she could see his face and feel him by her side
Her heart is breaking though he's been gone a year She's holding on to his memory but it's time to face her fears

Indiana Rain coming down in the middle of the night
Put an end to this misery that's burning deep inside
Trapped in their empty home it's been driving her
insane
Indiana Rain won't you wash away her pain

She kneels before the stone that bares his name Says it's time to let you go but in my heart you'll remain
I promise you we'll be together someday
She took one last look she turned and walked away

Indiana Rain coming down in the middle of the night
Put an end to this misery that's burning deep inside
Trapped in their empty home it's been driving her
insane
Indiana Rain won't you wash away her pain
Indiana Rain won't you wash away her pain
