(Tina Harris/Steve Lee/Pete Martin)

I've never had a sign above my head, saying walk all over me
Once I leave I don't regret the things I did
And I like strange relationships I rely on me, myself and I, if I lose my way so what, I tried, I tried
Are you still interested ?
I wouldn't want you breathing down my neck, expect horizontally
Even I'm not sure of what comes next, I let it flow naturally
The party goes where I go, mad, bad, and dangerous to know
Can you handle it ?

So before you get to know me, open wide your dirty
mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected
The more you get to know me, you'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected

Don't you know that I want you, don't you know that ?
Don't you know that I want you, don't you know that ?

I live my life in overdrive, put the needle in the red All my senses working overtime, got a crazy kind of Zen
Step inside, new rules apply, if you're ready just call me tonight
We dont let it go..

So before you get to know me, open wide your dirty mind (dirty mind)
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected
The more you get to know me, you'll wonder how you

lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room (Sandy .. support manuell)
For the unexpected

ALSO: EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED!

So before you get to know me, open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected
The more you get to know me, you'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected

Just so you know, I'm fire without smoke I'm bass without buzz, let's see how low we can go Wherever ever we land, it's out of you hands
So many beautiful things you can't control unexpected... yeah...

So before you get to know me, open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me, you'll wonder how you
lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected
So before you get to know me, open wide your dirty
mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected
The more you get to know me, you'll wonder how you
lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected unexpected.. (Manuell: Feel so good baby!)

But leave a little room for the unexpected.
