knots unwind
let's be kind well all of the ways that are different today (??) combine in lines that draw your face once I stumbled around I'd tumble then life turned on a light and the darkness had to hide suddenly I'd feel alright and I feel alright

I feel alright not good, not great right now, don't wait I am that sparkle on that lake and I am that sparkle on that lake and I am that winter that will break and I am a holiday to take and I am a new friend you will make and enjoy this while the good times shake and when life goes good it goes right on like someone turned a big light on lie on the grass against my knees let's hope at last this one's for keeps it not only walks but also speaks

still hairy, but under control they're giving back the things I stole I walk on water in my dreams and a heart that's bursting at the seams
