We walked till the sunlight died
How could I breathe without your love
Like others we all fight
Against the cruel, cruel time

A hundred times a year the wind blows
A hundred times a year the wind blows
Through my skin, through my skin

All the choices and many voices
Keep on telling me
It's you, Evelyn, it's you, Evelyn

We talked about wrong or right
I couldn't agree, I had to shout
Sometimes we all must fight
Against the cruel heart of doubt

A hundred times a year we find out
A hundred times a year we find out
By experience

All the choices and many voices
Keep on telling me
It's you, Evelyn, its you, Evelyn

You keep the rain from falling
You keep the rain from falling
Down on me, Evelyn, Evelyn

Everything will die for you
Everyone will cry for you
Evelyn, Evelyn, Evelyn, Evelyn

You keep the rain from falling
Down on me, yeah yeah yeah yeah
Evelyn
