You entered in left me no life to live
You made me feel I have no good to give You've stripped away any normality
A life in hell is my reality

So many questions with NO solutions

My head is crushed under the weight
Of all the pain you've helped create
Looking for something I have yet to find Sanity and peace of mind god knows I've tried

Above the pain the mask I'm forced to wear

Beneath the same the cross that I must bear
I will not trust I'm so afraid to feel Prospering wound that seems will never heal

'You don't expect to live in this place without it leaving it's mark do ya? If you do your living in a dream land boy.'

'I can taste your pain.' 'Your next!'
