-V1-

I know that tears cleanses the heart
Well I've been down a week now crying my eyes out
How everything concerning us just gets stuck
Falling in a rut
Where precautions taken never seem enough
They never seem

Well maybe I ask to much

-Chorus-

I'm holding on it's not a game
To me anymore
I need you now to tell me nothing's changed
The way it was before
I'm holding on it's not a game
To me anymore

I know you can't turn back the clock
But I need to hear that our love is still strong enough

-V2-

I know what my parents would say
And you wouldn't want me to call them anyway
You've got a decent job and someone to love in your life
So don't ask us why you cut yourself
Now won't you please put away that knife
Won't you put away

Hell, you never asked me why

-Chorus-

Oh, I know it's me 'cause really our love is strong
But deep down I fear, I fear that everything is wrong

-Chorus-
