"She Was A Boy"

she was a boy, it wasn't easy for her I was a child to see it she came alone to build her story I was so young and loved her go on you'll see all that you want to be while everybody's saying hold on, you'll see you'll never be free but we just kept on growing she was a boy with some feelings for me I was too wild and missed it I came alone to hear her story while no one else was worried go on she said or else you will grow said while everybody doubted hold on, they say one day you'll have to pay but i was so afraid to go hold on you're scared you only need to dare while everybody's laughing

one day you'll be free and you will understand why she was a boy, she was a boy, she was a boy hiding in herself but she was a boy, she was a boy she knew that everyone was saying it

how much you want to see how much you want to be how much you want to live, see her growing

how much you want to live feel like falling
wishing everyday you could see her face again how much you want to give how much you want to live

but she was there for me i was a child and
