Screaming Jets, The "No Point"

Visit "No Point" on MotoLyrics.com

I won't say no more about what we're talking 'bout I won't say another word All my dreams that I try and tell you 'bout You don't understand a word All the time and all the bridges over Water through our hearts and minds Now I see that all we had was nothing When all the time and all the lies so I tell you now I won't say no more about what we're talking 'bout I won't say another word All my dreams that I try and tell you 'bout You don't understand a word You and I and others, we have been there We've hit the bottom and not the top So who would have thought That all we had had fallen When all the dreams I have, I'm goin' up so I tell you know As you sit there smiling Not a thing can make me see that you have changed Break away from death's road We had dreams about that fame and fortune Said I'm gonna make it and be a star All of our names remembered by the people

Visit Screaming Jets, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

I should have known that we could never go that far

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.