Its nights like these, that take me back,
to the thoughts that haunt me.
I walk this town looking for the good ol' times,
looking to be free.

I take time, I wait,
but I hide, I fade.
There's no escape.
Not from this place.

So I'm torn between my mind and heart,
this is war.
Who would have thought, this would spark,
from some girl, from her?

I take time, I wait,
but I hide, I fade.
There's no escape.
Not from this place.

There's no walking away from you, I know.
It brings up a little thing I learned long ago€
It's not the places we went to at all.
It was you that made me fall.

I'll take the time, I'll wait.
I won't hide, I won't fade.
There's no need to escape,
from this place.
I just need to know where,
I go from here.
