Fate took a freeway to my room
Said to much while he stayed and left too soon
Bright on an evening sea, washed in with the tide Deep in each others dreams where all but dreams had died

Wretched in your thoughts Gentle hate within the love you brought Words fade like flowers shadowed, there beneath your wall
Wind cries from every angle, dead leaves left to wait for fall

And in my darkest hour when I can find no light
My goals are out of sight and nothing warms the night
I close my eyes and with such sweet surprise
I can be anywhere, I can be anyone

And in my darkest hour when I can find no light
My goals are out of sight and nothing warms the night
I close my eyes and with such sweet surprise
I can be anywhere, I can be anything
I can be anyone, I can be anyone
