At First

My world turned upside down
And your smile it made me blind to the rest of the world
Everything was nothing without you
I was blind enough to see your beauty and weak enough to let you into my heart
You tricked me into the dark when

It all began to fade away,
I looked for the pieces you left inside my mind
It's the end
For real
I leave, to see how things can be
'Cause I am miles away from sanity

The flame had been blown out by the words and promises you didn't keep Now everything is better without you
Why did you have to leave my world so shattered
And eager to find the meaning of true love
You tricked me into the dark when

It all began to fade away,
I looked for the pieces you left inside my mind
It's the end
For real
I leave, to see how things can be
'Cause I am miles away from sanity

I leave the grief behind, today
I seek for better days with my head held high,
I don't remember why
Don't remember why
'Cause I see the smiles and I feel the joy inside

It all began to fade away,
I looked for the pieces you left inside my mind
It's the end
For real

I leave, to see how things can be
'Cause I am miles away from sanity

sanity

I leave, to see how things can be
'Cause I am miles away from sanity

It all began to fade away,
I looked for the pieces you left inside my mind
It's the end
For real
I leave, to see how things can be
I do not expect you to follow me
'Cause I am miles away from sanity
