Come on little girl build your dreams around you and never let it fade Always push yourself for the dreams you have for a second there you had it made

Expectations of life seemed build so fast but all was getting of reach Unaware of the challenge that lay ahead how it would bring you to your knees

But at last this journey takes on flight and I think it's telling me to live my life and play my part, this is how it's meant to be

The years go by
And still I try
Proof to myself, who I can be
Hope that this dream starts chasing me
I won't go down
without a fight
To keep my head and chin up over the water
Try to bridge this gap beyond dreams seems harder today..

A day, a week, a month a year thinking it would come my way I have done this before and yet it seems so hard Is this the toll I pay?

Echo's of your words run through my head, and it's keeping me on track Sure enough the horizon is getting near and now that I am back

The years go by
And still I try
Proof to myself, who I can be
Hope that this dream starts chasing me
I won't go down
without a fight

To keep my head and chin up over the water
Try to bridge this gap beyond dreams seems harder
today..
